Alon Kruger, born in Israel, raised as an Orthodox Jew, spent many years of Torah studying in Yeshiva, has three kids and lives in Jerusalem.

At the age of 38 Alon made a transition and entered a new existence while leaving behind his religious upbringing yet keeping a spiritual approach to life.

Writing, taking photos, and leading tours became Alon's main ways to express and explore life's special moments.

As a result of his story Alon feels in many ways as a tourist in his own country. This perhaps helps him provide travelers with a unique experience while sharing with them love and knowledge.

Alon's dream in art and travel is to give people a chance to let go for a moment and to connect to their inner feelings.
